Consolidation principles

Basis for the Consolidated financial statements

The consolidation of the Group's financial statements provides an actual picture of the Group's assets, financial and income situation, and considers the Vetropack Group as a single business entity for this purpose.

Consolidated Group statements are based on financial statements for the year and are prepared in accordance with the national laws applicable to each of the companies concerned. They are then restated in accordance with the Group's internal valuation and formatting principles. Financial statements conform to the principles of Swiss GAAP FER in addition to accounting prescriptions set out in regulations for companies listed on the Swiss Stock Exchange.

The revised version of Swiss GAAP FER 30 'Consolidated Financial Statements' is to be applied from 1 January 2024. The effects on the annual financial statements relate only to the presentation in the Consolidated statement of changes in equity, in which the foreign currency translation differences are now shown separately. There is no retrospective implementation of the new regulations on offsetting goodwill against equity.

Consolidation scope

Consolidated Group statements include Vetropack Holding Ltd as well as all domestic and foreign subsidiaries in which Vetropack Holding Ltd has a direct or indirect interest of more than 50%. In such cases, the 'full consolidation method' is applied, i.e. assets, liabilities, expenses and incomes of consolidated companies are consolidated 100%, whereby all material intra-Group transactions are eliminated (accounts receivable and payable, income and expenses, and intermediate gains).

Minority shareholders' interests are recognised separately in the balance sheet and income statement.

Holdings of between 20% and 50% are included in Group accounts according to the 'equity method'. The Group's percentage share of net assets is reported in the balance sheet under 'Financial assets'. Percentage share of net income is stated in the Consolidated income statement.

Holdings below 20% are posted in the consolidated balance sheet at acquisition cost less any necessary value adjustments.

An overview of companies within the Vetropack Group and methods used to consolidate them into Group financial statements is available here.

Capital consolidation

Capital consolidation is carried out according to the 'purchase method', whereby the acquisition cost of an acquired company is charged against its net assets revaluated according to Group principles at the time of purchase. Any goodwill paid at the time of acquisition is charged directly to the Group's retained earnings in the acquisition year. If control of subsidiaries is lost, foreign currency translation differences are recognised in profit or loss. In the 2024 fiscal year, there was no loss of control of subsidiaries, which is why no foreign currency translation differences were recognised in profit or loss.

Foreign exchange (FX) differentials

Financial statements produced by foreign companies within the Group in their respective currencies are converted into Swiss francs as follows:

- Balance sheet figures: according to the exchange rate valid at year's end.
- Income statement figures: according to the average annual exchange rate.
- Cash flow statement figures: according to average and year-end rates respectively.

Exchange rate differentials resulting from such foreign currency conversions are charged to retained earnings with no effect on net income. Exchange rate differentials caused by converting transactions and balance sheet items in foreign currencies are recorded in the books of the respective Group company with effect on net income. Foreign exchange rate effects on long-term intra-Group loans with the nature of shareholders' equity are recorded in the Consolidated shareholders' equity, not affecting net income.

Valuation principles

Financial statements for individual companies are consolidated into the Group's financial statements, and valued in accordance with uniform principles across the Group. The most important valuation methods for the individual balance sheet positions are as follows:

Liquid assets

Liquid assets include cash, current account balances at banks and other financial institutions, as well as fixed-term deposits with maturity of no more than 90 days from the balance-sheet date. Liquid assets are valued at their nominal rate.

Marketable securities

Short-term securities recognised on the balance sheet include marketable and easily realisable securities investments and term deposits with a maturity of three to twelve months. Securities are valued at market prices. Term deposits are valued at their nominal rate.

Receivables

Receivables are valued at their nominal rate. Value adjustments are carried out for identifiable individual risks. The remaining risks are taken into account by a country-specific value adjustment of 2% to 10%, based on experience.

Inventories

Inventories are valued at either their acquisition or manufacturing costs. However, if the market price is lower, this figure is applied instead. Manufacturing costs include the cost of raw materials, individual production costs, and a portion of allocated general overhead costs. All identifiable risks of loss for goods or articles with insufficient inventory turnover are taken into account by appropriate value adjustments. Inventories from intercompany deliveries do not include intermediate profits. Discounts are recorded as reductions in the cost of goods.

Tangible assets

Tangible assets are valued at their acquisition or manufacturing cost less any applicable depreciation. Depreciation is linear over the expected useful life of the asset, taking residual values into account. The relevant depreciation periods are as follows:

– Buildings	15 – 50 years
– Production facilities	10 – 20 years
– Machinery and furnaces	5 – 24 years
– Moulds	1 – 2 years
– Vehicles	5 – 7 years
– Office and other equipment	5 – 10 years

Assets of insubstantial value are directly expensed in the income statement upon acquisition. Intermediate profits arising from intra-Group asset transfers are eliminated.

Leasing

Leased assets (financial leases) are reported as assets in the balance sheet. At the beginning of the contract, leasing payments are established by applying either the leased goods' purchase value or market value respectively; alternatively, the cash value is applied if lower. The corresponding liability toward the leasing grantor is carried as a liability from financial leasing. Costs arising from rental agreements and operational leasing are recorded in the income statement.

Financial assets

Non-consolidated participations are recorded in the balance sheet at their proportionate equity ('equity method') or purchase values. Loans and marketable securities are recorded at their nominal values or purchase prices respectively, less any necessary value adjustments.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets include brands, patents, licenses, software, and other intangibles. Acquired intangible assets are reported in the balance sheet at acquisition cost and are subject to linear amortisation over their estimated useful life. If it is impossible to determine the useful life of an intangible asset accurately, it is generally amortised over a period of five years.

– Licenses, patents, brands	5 years
– Software	3 – 5 years
– Other intangible assets	5 years

Assets of insubstantial value are directly expensed in the income statement upon acquisition.

Asset impairment

If there is evidence that the value of an asset may be impaired, an impairment test is conducted. If the impairment test suggests an impairment, the book value is reduced to the recoverable amount (higher value of fair value less cost to sale and value in use).

Liabilities

Short-term liabilities (also referred to as 'current liabilities') are debts that are repayable within 12 months. Long-term financial liabilities refer to financing with a term of more than one year. Liabilities (including financial debts) are recorded in the balance sheet at nominal value.

Provisions

Provisions are formed when a legal or de facto obligation has arisen from past events, the outflow of funds to meet this obligation is likely, and it is possible to estimate its amount reliably. The future outflow of funds is reported in the balance sheet at nominal value. If material, it is discounted as per the balance sheet date.

Taxes

All tax obligations, irrespective of their due dates, are set aside. Ongoing income taxes are calculated on the basis of taxable income and reported in the balance sheet under 'Accrued expenses and deferred income'. Deferred taxes are calculated on the basis of all temporary differences between the values from the tax statement and the operating values. Tax-relevant losses carried forward are only taken into account if it seems possible to offset them against income. For profits of group or associated companies that have not yet been distributed but whose distribution is planned, non-creditable withholding taxes and income taxes incurred by the parent company are taken into account as deferred tax liabilities when the profits are incurred, and are released when these profits are distributed.

The country-specific tax rates are applied when calculating deferred taxes. Deferred tax assets are recorded in the balance sheet as financial assets and deferred tax liabilities as long-term provisions.

In accordance with the guidelines, Vetropack has decided to apply the exemption from accounting for deferred taxes in relation to Pillar Two income taxes.

Derivative financial instruments

Derivative financial instruments for hedging purposes are disclosed in the Notes and recognised at fair value through profit or loss when the underlying transaction occurs.

Alternative performance measures

In its Integrated annual report, Semi-annual report and other publications for investors, Vetropack uses alternative performance measures that are not defined in Swiss GAAP FER as a guide for internal and external reporting to stakeholders. Vetropack uses its own definitions, which may differ from those of other companies.

This section has been prepared in accordance with the Directive on the Use of Alternative Performance Measures of SIX Exchange Regulation AG. The most important alternative performance measures are explained below, and are linked to a key figure according to Swiss GAAP FER.

Organic sales development is determined by adjusting the reported net sales for currency effects. The functional currency of the respective country is taken into account. The net revenues for the reporting year are calculated using the respective exchange rates of the comparison period, and they result in the currency-adjusted net sales.

Sales development

Sales development 2024	2024	FX	2023
Net sales in CHF millions	861.4	- 37.4	898.8

Adjusted EBIT / Adjusted EBIT-margin

In order to show the development of the operating result without one-off, non-recurring effects, the operating result is converted to the adjusted EBIT. Vetropack defines one-off, non-recurring costs as those associated with the closure of a plant.

In both the reporting year and the previous year, one-off, non-recurring costs were incurred in connection with a plant closure. While the plant in St-Prex (CH) was closed in 2024, costs were incurred in the previous year for the plant closure in Trezzano (IT).
